Comments:

1. If a voter destroys or makes a mistake on his/her ballot, he/she may return it in for a new one no more than two times for a total of three ballots.
2. The election judge keeps this record to account for the number of ballots given to each voter.
3. If a poll worker makes an administrative error, the voter does not lose one of his/her three ballots.

Secrecy Sleeve

When completing the spoiled ballot process, place the voter's ballot in a secrecy sleeve so that other persons in the polling place may not see the voter's choices on the spoiled ballot. Exposing a voter's choices for others to see is not conducive to a secret ballot.
